St. John the Evangelist, Bury

Key Facts

St. John the Evangelist was one of Jesus' disciples or apostles and is sometimes called 'St. John the Apostle'.

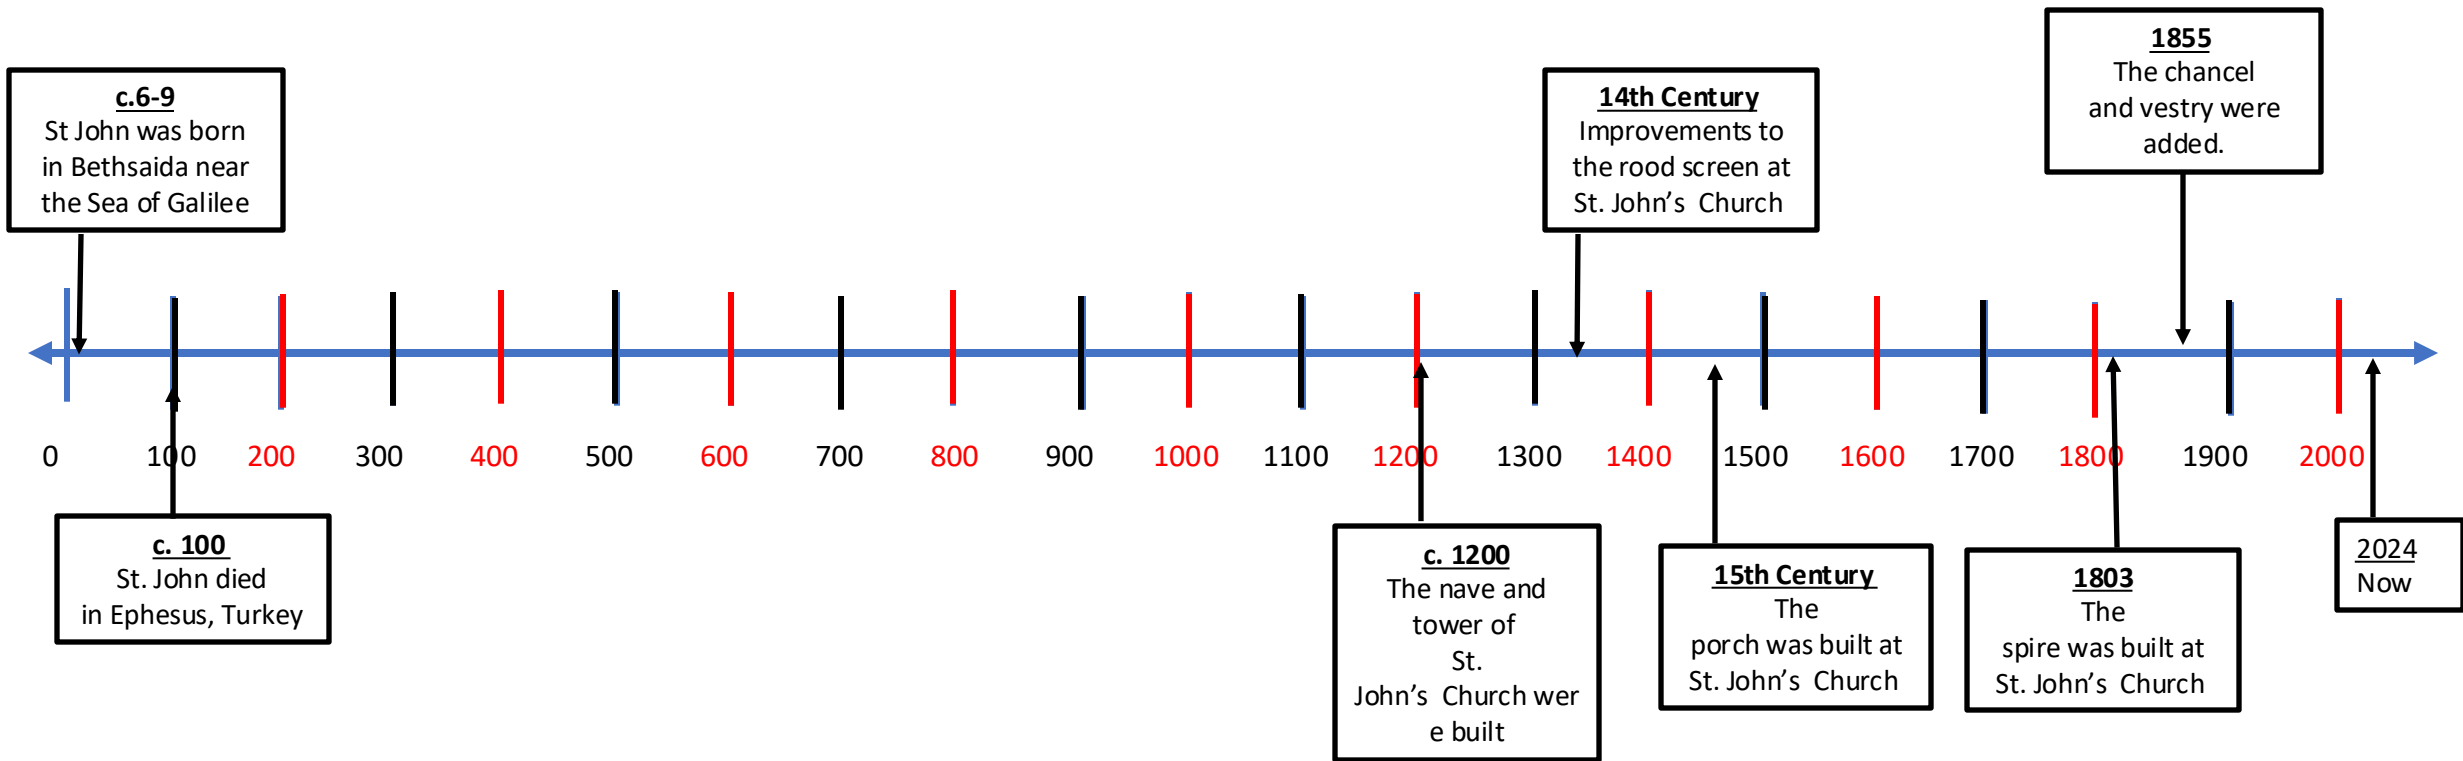

An apostle is sent out to deliver a message. A disciple follows someone.

St. John wrote several of the books in the New Testament including 'St. John's Gospel' and the 'Book of Revelation'

It is believed that St. John was the only apostle who wasn't martyred (killed for what he believed) but he was exiled (sent away from his homeland) around AD 95 to the Aegean island of Patmos.

St. John's Day is the 27th December and Christians remember him on this day.
