

architecture

census

directory

Domesday Book

period

scale

thatch

tile hung

timber framed

A list of who owned each business in a town or village.

A list of who lived in which house taken every ten years from 1841.

How houses are planned and designed. What style of walls, windows, doors and roofing they use.

The relative size of something compared to other things that are close by or related.

A length of time when similar things happened. The Tudor period or the World War 2 period are examples.

The "Great Survey" of England and parts of Wales completed in 1086 by order of King William the Conqueror. It was an early census.

A building with wooden beams. The walls were filled in with lathe and plaster. These were often built between 1400 and 1600 AD.

A building with tiles hung on the walls. These buildings are often Victorian or Edwardian.

A roofing material made of reeds or straw.

Insert text here

Insert text here

Insert text here

Insert text here

Insert text here

Insert text here

Insert text here

Insert text here

Insert text here

Insert text here

Insert text here

Insert text here

Insert text here

Insert text here

Insert text here

Insert text here

Insert text here

Insert text here